Dear Martin.

Re: Court Proceedings

Firstly let me apologise for the fact that I was not able to deal with you personally on Friday 21st July. I had a Trial which I expected would not proceed but which in fact did so, but as you know I was able to make arrangements for your case to be dealt with by my agent Emma North. 1

I have now received her report and understand that your case has been adjourned until 4th August, 2006, at 10am, to enable me to take your instructions on the papers that were served on me by the Crown Prosecution Service on 21st July. To that end would you kindly telephone my secretary to arrange a mutually convenient appointment prior to the next hearing date. 2

I am required to remind you that failure to attend Court on the next occasion is an offence in respect of which a separate penalty can be imposed.

I would confirm that an application for a Representation Order has been submitted in your name and I would expect that to be granted at no cost to yourself.

I look forward to seeing you in the near future.

Yours sincerely,

Yours sincerely,

Robert Bashforth
