Dear Sir or Madam

Please find enclosed the P58 Lost or Damaged International Mail Claim Form dated the 17th September 2013, that I have completed as fully as I can with the information I hold for the Item with the barcode RU167360119GB on the attached receipt dated the 20th August 2013.

The Item posted Track and Trace and Signed For is an application form and enclosures posted to the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg, France.

On the Royal Mail website Track and Trace facility it states that the Item was delivered on the 26th August 2013.

Further to the application form and enclosures I sent an addendum to the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg France (same address) of which I have a receipt for with the barcode RU167360153GB dated the 29th August 2013 that on the Royal Mail website shows as delivered on the 03rd September 2013.

I have received a response letter from the European Court of Human Rights dated the 06th September 2013 referring to the addendum posted on the 29th August 2013 as received on the 03rd September 2013 as an incomplete application which reads:-

The Registry has received your communication on 3 September 2013.

Skip to the final paragraph:-

The Court has a very heavy workload and will be unable to answer any letters or telephone calls concerning this incomplete application.

May I at this stage point out that the Item isn't lost or damaged, it seems to be in limbo with the Royal Mail website stating that it has been delivered and the European Court of Human Rights response letter to the addendum infers that it hasn't been delivered, therefore, I now require the signature and printed name (in English) of the person that signed for the item as proof of delivery which will then enable me to take this matter up fully with the European Court of Human Rights.

If the Royal Mail cannot provide the signature and printed name(in English) of the person who signed for the item as proof of delivery from their counterpart in France then the item simply didn't leave for France as the package would not have been left without being signed for.

I also require the original receipt returning in its original condition as it is my property that I paid have for.

Yours sincerely
